

Moveon New Zealand aims to link you to stimulating information through other web-sites, to be a vehicle for New Zealand and Oceania Humanitarian and Environmental Projects, and to provide insights into huge changes occurring world wide.

It takes effort to change the world and the changes start with each individual and so the ripples spread.

It is time NOW to move into new and enlightened ways of living and being on this planet that is our home, our mother.

These projects are all ways of instigating and promoting such changes.

Moveon New Zealand is dedicated to exposing these truths; facts regarding the control and distribution of wealth and the reality of suppressed technology which can enhance our environment, health and well-being.

Through this we aim to encourage people to make more informed choices, be inspired to Moveon in more enlightened and open ways, and become consciously involved in this exciting journey.

PROPOSED HUMANITARIAN AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROJECTS

HOLISTIC & ALTERNATIVE MEDICINE EDUCATION SYSTEMS.

The way that traditional medicinal / drug policies and programmes are supported and funded by New Zealand agencies and drug companies, means that most holistic and alternative medicine options struggle to be widely exposed to the general public.

The Holistic & Alternative Medicine Education System will promote and educate the people of New Zealand by means of a concept called Reality Tour.

This will use personalised messages and moving images on a mini C.D. Reality Tour utilises technology that can be played through a CD or DVD. Player, or a hard drive on a computer.

It also allows the playback of multiple languages.

The Reality Tour combines the portability of a power point presentation with the impact of television advertisement.

Following on from this would be affordable, practical and educational healing clinics and centres being set up around New Zealand.

If this is your passion, there are criteria for applying for funding.

NEW ZEALAND'S FOOD & WATER SAFETY

The presence of thousands of chemicals, toxins and other harmful products in New Zealand's food chain means that people are becoming very ill and in turn, this leads to many unnecessary deaths.

This project requires action that will highlight to those New Zealand authorities, food manufacturers, and food retailers who control our food chain through regulations, the degree to which present-day policies and processes impact on the general and longer-term health of New Zealanders.

The general public are unaware of just how harmful these processes are for the human body and mind. Many statistics indicate that the health of New Zealanders (and of course people in other countries) is suffering as a direct consequence of this contaminated food chain.

Due to the many vested interests in all aspects of the food chain, the present authorities will not commit to funding for independent research,

It is proposed that an independent research team be set up to provide proof that the present situation is having a detrimental effect on our health and costing the country many billions of dollars.

WATER TREATMENT SOLUTION FOR SEWAGE DISPOSAL

This will be a self-sustaining system. The gas and steam generated in the process will be used to power incinerators to break down city and industrial wastes.

The end products of this process will be sterile water, sterile solids and electricity. This electricity could be fed into local and national power grids.

REDISCOVERING NEW ZEALAND'S ANCIENT STRUCTURES & SACRED SITES

There is a need to get world class archaeologists to New Zealand to rediscover our land that abounds with standing stone sites, dolmens, monolithic structures, stone dwellings, massive canal systems, observatories, ritual burial sites, carvings, drawings and modified landscapes.

The purpose for this would be to unlock the knowledge that stands within the land and thus provide answers to some of the great mysteries of the world.

New Zealanders would thereby be able to develop the true spiritual nature of this land. The ripples from this would spread out to the rest of the world.
